

Table of contents

Land acknowledgement	1
Letter from the editors Brittney O'Neill &amp; Ana-Maria Jerca	2
Artificially intelligent language models and the false fantasy of participatory language policies Mandy Lau	4
He, (s)he/she, and they: Language ideologies and ideological conflict in gendered language reform Brittney O'Neill	16
Language, food, and identity in the borderlands of El Paso Rudi Barwin	29
Meta-discourses of disability among people with Multiple Sclerosis Ana-Maria Jerca	43
Attitudes towards varied inclusive language use in Spanish on Twitter Katie Slempp	60
On the acceptability of multiple interrogatives in Italian Anda Neagu	75
Metaphoring back in the climate crisis: Notes toward encouraging student engineer agency through metaphoring Edmund Martin Nolan	86